DETAILED ACTION

Objection to the Disclosure 37 CFR 1.163

The following is a quotation of section (a) of 37 CFR 1.163:

(a) The specification must contain as full and complete a disclosure as possible of the plant and the characteristics thereof that distinguish the same over related known varieties, and its antecedents, and must particularly point out where and in what manner the variety of plant has been asexually reproduced. In the case of a newly found plant, the specification must particularly point out the location and character of the area where the plant was discovered.

35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

In plant applications filed under 35 U.S.C. 161, the requirements of 35 U.S.C. are limited. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 162:

No plant patent shall be declared invalid for noncompliance with section 112 of this title if the description is as complete as is reasonably possible. The claim in the specification shall be in formal terms to the plant shown and described.

The disclosure is objected to under 37 CFR 1.163 (a) and under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification presents less than a full, clear and complete botanical description of the plant and the characteristics which define same per se and which distinguish the plant from related known cultivars and antecedents.

More specifically:

Art Unit: 1661

A. In the interest of providing as complete a botanical description of the plant as is reasonably possible, applicants should import information relative to the petiole diameter.

Correction is required.

B. Section 1612 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure states that there is a requirement that "the proposed variety name not be identical with or confusingly similar to other names utilized in the United States or other UPOV member countries for the same or a closely related species." The attached reference from the UPOVROM discloses a PBR filed in the Netherlands in 1993 for a Chrysanthemum cultivar named 'Allegro'. This previous disclosure seemed to be drawn to a different plant than the instant plant.

As 'Allegro', has been previously used as a cultivar name designation for a chrysanthemum plant, it is necessary for applicant to take corrective action relative to the cultivar name of the "instant" plant such as by correcting same, as reuse of the cultivar name 'Allegro' is inadmissible under UPOV Convention, Article 13. This article requires that the proposed variety name not be identical with or confusingly similar to other names utilized in the United States or other UPOV member countries for the same or a closely related species.
